HE FOUGHT WITH CHAFFEE

Hon. P. F. Collins and the General
Privates in the Civil War.

Hon. P. F. Collins, of Mohave county, a member of the twenty-third legislature and chairman of the house committee on mines and mining who has been in town for several days, left last night for Tucson. He will return to Phoenix in three or four days.

Mr. Collins was at Prescott at the time of the arrival and stay there of Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee. Mr. Collins is the oldest acquaintance in the territory of General Chaffee and he made a special trip to Prescott to meet him. Mr. Collins served in the same squad with the general at the outbreak of the civil war, when both were privates. Mr. Collins had been in the regular service for three years before the breaking out of the war. Gen. Chaffee entered the service in a volunteer regiment from Ohio. One thing mentioned by Mr. Collins in connection with the service of General Chaffee and which has perhaps never before been in print is that the second lieutenant over Chaffee the private was the now Major General Wade son of the famous senator Ben Wade of Ohio.

After the war Mr. Collins never saw General Chaffee but once and that was in the eighties when the latter was stationed at San Carlos. His visit with the general at Prescott was a brief but a very pleasant one.

Speaking of General Chaffee it was stated at the time of his visit to Phoenix that he was interested here in real estate with Dr. R. E. Lightburne. That is an error. The doctor who was asked about it yesterday said that he and the general had owned a great deal of real estate together. The general then captain, was in command at McDowell and the doctor was post surgeon there. A large tract of land north of the city was to be sold at a sheriff's sale and both having faith in the future of Phoenix came down from the post to get a share of it. The court house where the sale took place was situated on Washington street about where the store of Talbot & Hubbard now is. They bought a tract in partnership and later bought a ranch south of the site of the old M. P. depot, which the doctor still owns. He bought General Chaffee's share of the investment when the latter left the territory about 1884. He has had no other interest in the valley since then.

About the same time Lieutenant Dravo who was also stationed at McDowell became an investor in Phoenix and valley real estate. He is holding a part of it yet and is also interested in mining properties in the Cave Creek country.

Hoghe's chop house is the popular place in Phoenix to eat. Clean, wholesome and cooked just right.
